

During the late war many pigeon fanciers voluntarily offered their own services and the use of their birds for special operations.

I wish to record my deep appreciation for the valuable services rendered by

J. Prescott Esq.

at a time of grave national danger.

J. J. Lawson

Secretary of State for War.

The War Office, London,

December, 1945.